Hydraulic Engineers Have Been Making the Preliminary Surveys for Some Months. A Division Came Out with a Fall of Twenty Five Feet at the Mouth of the River. It is Proposed to Build a Dam at the Mouth of the River and a Low End and Will Produce a Minimum of 20,000 Horse Power.

An immense electric power proposition, the biggest of its kind brought forward in Alberta, is being investigated by a group of hydraulic engineers, and in a short time will be in shape for submission to the authorities.

Local capitalists are now behind the scheme, but in a short time will be in shape for submission to the authorities.

The proposal is to secure the power for the city of Edmonton, and a dam will be built at the mouth of the river. It is proposed to build a dam at the mouth of the river and a low end and will produce a minimum of 20,000 horse power.

At this point a lock will be constructed. It is proposed to build a dam at the mouth of the river and a low end and will produce a minimum of 20,000 horse power.

For some time past engineers have been at work on the project. The dam will be built at the mouth of the river and a low end and will produce a minimum of 20,000 horse power.

The estimated cost of the project will be about a million and a half dollars. The money will be raised by the sale of bonds.

The power plant will be built at the mouth of the river and a low end and will produce a minimum of 20,000 horse power.

The legal questions in connection with the undertaking is being looked after by Mr. W. E. Roper. He has been connected with the applications to the Federal government and has arranged the legal details of the scheme.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.

The City Council has not yet taken action regarding the report of the City Auditor. The unfortunate issue raised as to whether or not the appropriation money of the power house deficit was properly made remains unsettled. In fairness to all concerned this matter should be cleared up. As it is, a certain amount of suspicion must be attached to the report which should never be allowed to lie against an annual statement of the city's financial affairs. In fairness to the officials, to the public and to the city, the report should be taken up and inquiry made as to whether or not there is proper ground for the declaration that the appropriation was "deficient."

Interest Might be Saved.

Aside from this altogether there are many valuable hints in the report which might be made the subject of debate and of action by the Council, and the materials from which many valuable conclusions might be drawn. For one, the Auditor proposes that any surplus from public utility, instead of being dumped into the funds and expended as money collected from taxes is expended, should be put into a reserve fund to cover the operations of the city during the following year. The expenditure of the city has of course to be made during the summer season largely, while the taxes do not come in until the fall. Money for the payment of wages and the purchase of material has in the meantime to be borrowed from the bank and interest paid on it. In connection with a loan improvement the amount needed to pay for the work cannot be known exactly until the work is complete. To carry on such work money is borrowed and bank interest paid. Again, it happens fairly frequently that the funds for public works are not available until long after the work has been started, in some cases, until after they have been completed. The money used in the meantime must be borrowed. Again it sometimes occurs that the amount found necessary for such work exceeds the estimates and the money for the extra expenditure must be borrowed.

On money borrowed for these purposes until the debentures are sold or the taxes come due, we have to pay higher rates of interest than on debentures. Last year, altogether, we paid in interest on temporary loans some $187,334. During the present year the council have found it necessary to take temporary loans for more than a half million dollars to provide funds until the debentures have been sold. The interest on this will come out of next year's taxes. Added to the bill will be the interest on loans contracted in the last year to carry on current business, to make local improvements, to construct public works for which debentures had not previously sold, to pay for the "extra" of any such works whose cost exceeds the amount authorized by bylaw and realized from debentures. The charges are therefore that the interest on temporary loans will make a large vacancy in the revenues next year than it did this year. The amount of debentures to be sold next year will be lessened in some cases by disposing of debentures more promptly. But the city sometimes spends money by holding on more until the market conditions are favorable, though this practice is dangerous and liable to work into speculation. In any event it is impossible to get away from the fact that the city has to spend money largely at a time of the year when it has no money coming in, that the money must be borrowed, and that on these borrowings the city has to pay the rates charged for temporary loans. The burden of this interest the Auditor proposes to lessen by creating a working capital fund from the surplus of the utilities, amounting, say, to $100,000. The suggestion is a sound one. It might be carried a step further, and the city agree to pay for the use of this money at a fixed rate of interest, say equal to the debenture rate, to the credit of the utility. Now this the city would not do, for the working capital for less charges and the utilities would get the benefit of the interest allowed them.

Could Cut $10,000

On Expense Bill.

Another matter which looms up in the report is that saving some $10,000 last year and the incinerator another $6,000. Of this $26,000 at least $10,000 must be assessed against the Medical Health Officer has characterized as the unnecessary part of the sum. This is an annual item and the public stands which must go on and must increase as long as present conditions continue. But it would be completely wiped out if all the inhabited buildings in the city were provided with water and sewer services. The question is pertinent if it would not sound financial policy for the city to undertake this improvement, to enter into installation, and where the cost could not finance the undertaking, the city to do so, as a local improvement, the owner repaying the city by a special tax collectable over a number of years, all interest charges, it course, included.

The $10,000 paid last year on this account would pay the debenture interest on $200,000. This sum would completely wipe out if all the inhabited buildings in the city were provided with water and sewer services. The question is pertinent if it would not sound financial policy for the city to undertake this improvement, to enter into installation, and where the cost could not finance the undertaking, the city to do so, as a local improvement, the owner repaying the city by a special tax collectable over a number of years, all interest charges, it course, included.

Had last year been a normal year with the public utilities, these two arrangements alone would have saved at $20,000. As things came out we would have saved $10,000 on sewerage and $10,000 on water. No more than we are on the temporary loans.

A POOR REASON.

The Winnipeg Telegram argues that because the Dominion has spent up to $2 million dollars in making exhibits at world's fairs and large exhibitions in other countries during the past ten years, that it would be good policy to put $3 millions into a world's fair at Winnipeg. If there were good assurances that the Winnipeg fair would be a world's fair the investment might or might not be advisable, but there is something lacking in the argument. From the present prospect it looks much more like a proposal to hold a kind of exaggerated "Winnipeg fair" with the "world's fair" label attached as an excuse for getting the Dominion to pay for the fun. Certainly the Telegram's argument does not prove the wisdom of according to this method request. An exhibition of Canada's products in St. Louis or Paris or Stockholm or London is an exhibit made among the people whom we are anxious to get to come to Canada. An exhibit in Winnipeg, however large, would be seen only by those people from abroad who have money to spend in travelling about the world and observing its countries and peoples. Some of these might be induced to put money into (national and commercial) concerns in this country; many of them would no doubt be found pleasant and profitable citizens for the "extra" of any such works whose cost exceeds the amount authorized by bylaw and realized from debentures. The charges are therefore that the interest on temporary loans will make a large vacancy in the revenues next year than it did this year. The amount of debentures to be sold next year will be lessened in some cases by disposing of debentures more promptly. It might be carried a step further, and the city agree to pay for the use of this money at a fixed rate of interest, say equal to the de-line money to put traffic decks on the proposed C. P. R. bridge. Now this the city would not do, for the working capital for less charges and the utilities would get the benefit of the interest allowed them.

HOW BRITAIN'S KING DISSOLVES PARLIAMENT

The Machinery of Election in Britain is interesting and complex. Has Been in Vogue Since 1816 When Union Act Was Passed.

The cable has already told us that the dissolution of Parliament of Great Britain and Ireland will take place on January 5. There are many people who want to know why the dissolution is delayed.

The explanation is simple. It is the political fight over the actual dissolution and so avoid as little dissipation of business as possible.

The proclamation of the King dissolving Parliament will be couched in quaint old-fashioned phraseology "being desirous and resolved as soon as may be to meet our people, and to have their advice in Parliament, do hereby make known to all our loving subjects our royal will and pleasure to call a new Parliament, and to have it first to be called at such time as we shall think fit."

Berlin, Dec. 17.—A joint committee of the two radical parties in the Reichstag published today the draft of a plan for amendment under the name of Social Reform (Volkswirtschaft). This draft must be ratified by each party, after which the amendment will be consummated at a general party convention to be held in 1924.

The published program of the proposed alliance declares in favor of gradual reduction of the agricultural and industrial duties, the restriction of the special privileges of the great land owners, progressive taxation of property and income, electoral reform and a liberal development of the constitution making the ministry directly responsible to the Reichstag. The Radical press has received the question of proposed amendment rather coldly, there being no trace of enthusiasm.

Vienna, Dec. 17.—The obstruction tactics by the Slav union in the Reichstag in the support of their demand that no bill shall be passed until the cabinet has been reconstituted, continued today and at midnight the session was still in progress. The discussion was a round of strategy and maneuvering. The Slav union, which is in the chamber do not provide for the closure it is held that it will be necessary to resort to break the obstruction of the Slav union.

St. Catherine, Ont., Dec. 17.—Police officers are watching a man by the name of Louis, who is in a local hotel, who is believed to be the French-Speaking murderer of the Orange N. The elections in the case of a general parliamentary election are not all held on the same day. In the case of a county, the sheriff, with the returning officer, must give notice of the day of election within two days after receiving the writ from the Clerk of the Crown, and must hold the election not later than the ninth day after the arrival of the document, allowing three clear days between the issue of the notice and the poll. In the case of borough elections, the interval is a fortnight, but in the case of the time Sunday, Christmas Day, Good Friday, public holidays and public fast and thanksgiving days are expressly excluded.

The returning officer has been taken into the Clerk of the Crown's hands, and the poll books, and through the victor's candidate has nothing more to do but to await the meeting of the new Parliament, and the ceremony of swearing him in, in order to be a full-fledged legislator.

EVERYTHING THAT'S NEW

Small Cash Payment secures 5 acres of richest farming land in Canada, right on interurban tram-line.

If I can prove to you beyond a shadow of doubt that the soil of THE MODEL FARMS is richer than any other soil in the Fraser Valley country, and has a top soil of three to seven feet in depth, of rich chocolate loam (vegetable mould), with a stiff clay subsoil, would you not be willing to agree with me that it would provide crops for many years to come without further fertilization.

I can take you to farms in the immediate neighbourhood of THE MODEL FARMS, which have produced enormous crops of vegetables and small fruits for many years, without any attention to fertilization whatsoever.

THE MODEL FARMS is that block of rich, fertile land, fronting right on the tramline now under construction between this city and Chilliwack, which may be reached when the tramline is in operation, by a fifteen minutes ride.

Remember, this electric tramline will be in operation, and cars running, in the month of December this year.

Such interurban tram service will naturally advance the price of property at least one hundred per cent.

I am prepared to deliver to you five and ten acre blocks right on the tram at from $100 per acre up.

You can buy today, move in tomorrow, commence setting out your young orchard. Next year from between the rows of the young orchard you can take vegetables and fruit which will more than repay you the whole purchase price, as well as wages for planting and caring for same.

At the end of five years—even if you did not touch the property at all, you will find it will be worth from $1,000 per acre up. If you cultivate it, and get out of it crops of fruits and vegetables it will be worth so much more, since the orchard will be matured in five years, and in full bearing.

As soon as matured your orchard has a net value of $120 per acre, to say nothing of the side crops taken from between the rows, so that the MODEL FARMS today at $100 per acre are the best buy in the Fraser Valley country.

Take as an illustration the fact that acreage along the Vancouver New Westminster tramline, with soil not near as rich as what is present in THE MODEL FARMS, sold at $100 per acre five years ago, while today it readily brings $1,000 per acre.

You must speak quick—if you want to buy in THE MODEL FARMS, since the area is limited. It is cheaper than any acreage in the neighbourhood, and will be within fifteen minutes ride by tram of Westminster City.

Route your ticket via New Westminster, and see this property at my expense.

If you wire me after reading this advertisement, I will reserve a small block for you a number of days, without any expense.

Remember that when the tram is in operation, the price will start to advance.

LANDENDORFF RECITAL.

Mrs. Landendorff's recital, which had been anticipated with a great deal of interest and pleasure, took place last evening in the Edmonton Opera House, before a moderately sized yet fashionable audience.

Throughout her long and trying program, Madame Landendorff received much flattering applause. At a mezzo-soprano, it is doubtful if Edmonton has ever heard her sing. She has a voice of marvellous power and richness and combines therewith unusual sweetness and artistic charm.

It would be difficult to choose between her vocal selections, which included so much of genuine merit. We were particularly struck by her rendition of "The Song of the Lark" (Scherff) and the aria "My Heart" (Scherff).

It was a pleasure to see her accomplish her great triumph, although mention must be made of the beautifully sustained "Still as the Night" (Bach). It was a pleasure to see her accomplish her great triumph, although mention must be made of the beautifully sustained "Still as the Night" (Bach).

The last resolution was adopted by the grain act to compel the government to build a new terminal when desired. Still another resolution adopted called for the protection of the farmer from the cost of the terminal.

Several other delegates were in favor of the resolution, one claiming that the amenability of the governments in Canada was attributable to the potency of the partnership, and advocating a more liberal expression of public opinion such as obtained in Britain, where the prime minister on occasions found his majority while the resolutions were an accurate gauge of public opinion.
